SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT 26, 1863

The News

Our dispatches this morning are more interesting than usual. A fierce battle was raging between Rosecrans and Bragg at Chattanooga. The rebels evidently fearing that the gallant General and his veteran troops were about to cut in twain what is left of the Confederacy, sent heavy reinforcements from Lee's and Johnston's armies to Bragg who attacked Rosecrans near Chattanooga. After some heavy fighting Rosecrans fell back to Chattanooga, where the battle is still going on without any decisive results yet we have no doubt but that Rosecrans will be able to hold his position until reinforced when he will win another glorious victory.

Matters are progressing favorably at Charleston.

Military Intelligence

Editor Oregonian:

Since I last wrote you, late intelligence has been received from Col. Maury's expedition. After marching 137 miles from [illegible] Prairie he reached the crossing of Snake river, at Fort Hall, on the 18th of August, where he met Captain Crawford of the Emigrant Escort expedition, who arrived at the crossing the same hour with Col. Maury.

This timely arrival of those commands was the result of an arrangement made last winter by Gen. Alvord with Captain Crawford, at Fort Vancouver, and is evidence of the systematic disposition of the troops in this District, for the complete protection of the frontier.

Captain Crawford reports the rear of the emigration with him—a train of about eighty wagons. About the 24th of August, Colonel Maury broke his camp at Port Neuf river, returned to Camas Prairie, and with the three companies of Cavalry of his command intends to cross the Snake river at Salmon Falls, and march into the country towards Harney lake, and near the head waters of the Malheur and Owyhee.

The Indians who inhabit the country toward and around Fort Hall, and South east to the Territory of Utah after having been severely handled by Gen. Conner last winter, concluded a treaty with that officer and the Governor of Utah, in June last, thus obtaining the rifle of its legitimate rights.

The disaffected warriors of those bands with whom the treaty was made, are supposed to have gone South and West, into that unexplored country toward Harney lake whither Maury proposes to follow them. This is the section into which the people of Auburn were so anxious that a military force should be sent in the early part of the season.

It was reported that a party of prospectors were attacked and driven back from that country in June of this year. If it is not too late they might make another attempt to explore that locality, the richness of whose streams in yellow dust, was represented by the early emigrants as beyond comparison.

After the return of Col. Maury from this expedition, the active operations of the season in this District will have closed. The Col. will make the headquarters of his regiment at Fort Dalles with one company of Cavalry. Major Lugenbeel has been appointed Assistant Provost Marshal General, for the State of Oregon and Washington Territory, and will be relieved in command of Fort Boise by Major Rhinearson of the Oregon Cavalry.—Major Lugenbeel may be expected at his headquarters, at Portland, in about fifteen days.

FRONTIER.

The Idaho Delegateship.—We learn from Tracy & Co.'s express messenger, that at the Union Convention, held at Bannock City, on the 16th inst., Gov. Wallace received the nomination as Union candidate to represent the Territory in Congress. The vote on the first ballot stood, Wallace, 18; Turner, 10; Harrington 3. The nomination of Wallace was then made unanimous, and the convention adjourned with three cheers for the Union and their candidate. There is little room to doubt the election of the Union nominee. Parties who are familiar with the Boise country, where the heaviest vote will be polled, assure us that there as elsewhere the advocates of secession are confined to the loafers, gamblers and idlers, and outside this circle the Union sentiment is largely in the ascendent. The respectable merchants and traders, with scarce an exception, are fast friends to the Union, and this remark will apply to the miners, and all that class of men who expect to live by honest industry. With the respectability, wealth and industry of the Territory on the side of the Union, there can be no fear of a secesh triumph. Indeed, the only thing to be apprehended is, that the Union men, feeling secure in their strength, will fail to exert themselves, and be contented with inflicting on the enemy a loss than Waterloo defeat.—Mountaineer.

We ought, perhaps to say in reference to the convention refered to, that it was not the Territorial one, which has been called to meet at the Mountain House, on the 28th of October.

The Hapless Liberator.—The Milan papers state that Garibaldi has become a perfect wreck. His health is giving way, his wound is constantly breaking out afresh, in consequence of the exfoliation of the bone; and the neglect into which he has fallen, the loss of his popularity, and the death and imprisonment of his old friends continue to depress him still more than the physical injuries that have made him a cripple for life.

Foreign Shipping in the Harbor.—The high rate of insurance charged on account of the ravages of the rebel steamers Alabama and Florida etc. has to a great extent driven American vessels out of service for long foreign voyages, and as a consequence vessels of other nations are doing the carrying trade. San Francisco forms no exception to the general rule and there are to day more foreign flagged ships placed by shipping in the harbor than at any previous time. Among the foreign shipping now here are vessels belonging to Prussia, Denmark, Hamburg, Bremen, Lubeck, Russia, Great Britain, Sardinia, France and Colombia.—S. F. Bull.

The Rebel Press

The following extract is taken from the Richmond Whig of August 19th:

THE PRESIDENT—GENERAL LEE AND THE NEWSPAPERS.

The President tells us he wants more men. In his proclamation he appeals to the ladies for help and grants a general amnesty to all deserters advertising [illegible] the said amnesty [illegible] twenty consecutive [illegible] and [illegible] General Lee [illegible] the same mind of the President. He wants more men, [illegible] calls upon all [illegible] and men to join their respective regiments [illegible] and [illegible] the [illegible] several States to [illegible] every man able to bear arms [illegible] would [illegible] to suppose that two such [illegible] know what they are talking about. But the newspapers, including the President's own [illegible] organs, are [illegible] [illegible] that the Yankee draft is [illegible], the Yankee army is wasting away by disease, desertion and expiring enlistments, that Lee's army is numerically greater than Meade's, and that Lincoln is at his last legs, in a military point of view.

Which are we to believe, the President and General Lee, or the newspapers? We can't believe both. If the newspapers are to be heeded there is no need for another man in our armies. All we have to do is to stand still and see Lincoln's legions vanish into thin air. Then we will march to Boston with the slightest inconvenience or interference and we will be able to do that next fall.

This is no time to trifle with the people. They are not arrant fools. Their spirits are not kept up by conflicting statements. They know that the conscription of men up to forty-five and the call of the President, and the appeal of General Lee do not tally with the sanguine articles of the newspapers. What they want is not delusive hopes, but the assurance that the President intends to act with wisdom and energy.

We do want more men. The Yankees are trying to play another trick on us. Just before the battle of Chancellorsville they assured us that Hooker's army was only 70,000 strong, and just before Grant captured Grand Gulf they assured us that there would be no more general engagements during the war. Reliable gentlemen, who had been through the Northwest brought news that peace and an alliance with the Confederacy were positively determined on.

They are trying to fool us again. Reliable gentlemen, "just returned from Washington," arrive almost daily within our lines to assure us that Meade is "receiving no reinforcements except a few negro regiments," etc., etc. We have had enough of this stuff to satisfy even the Administration. This is the calm before the storm. The storm will not wait for the dog days to expire. Meade is constantly being reinforced, and so is Rosecrans, and the first thing we know Lee will be attacked on both flanks, East Tennessee invaded by 40,000 men and Mobile invested by way of Pascagoula. The house must be put in order and kept so for the storm will soon burst in all its fury.

HOME DEFENCE OF THE SOUTH SIDE.

We regret very much to hear that while the people of Richmond, Hanover, Petersburg, Lynchburg, Albemarle, and of nearly all the tide water counties, are turning out without regard to age or worldly station in order to repel the expected raids of the Yankees, the citizens of the counties south of James river are doing little or nothing in that way. In Chesterfield, Amelia, Nottoway, Prince Edward, Buchanan, Appomattox, Campbell (outside of Lynchburg), Charlotte, Halifax and the adjacent counties we hear of but a single organization for home defense, and gentlemen from the region embracing these counties cannot say with certainty that any preparations are being made to organize companies for their own protection.

Why is this? Are the people of the South side less patriotic than those of the North side? Have they less property at stake or are they less concerned for its safety? We trust not. Perhaps the true reason of their apathy will be found in the fact that they fancy themselves out of danger. This is a lamentable delusion and it is strange that any one entertains it after Kilpatrick's raid upon Columbia which threw the whole South side into a panic.

We tell the people of that section that they are offering a premium for the best raid the Yankees have yet made. They are inviting them to come and help themselves. They are making a free will offering of their horses, cattle, negroes and crops. The Yankees are laying waste in Culpepper and mounting thousands of men for the especial purpose of making raids, and yet the people only two days ride from the devastated land are folding their hands and going to sleep.

It is a wide mistake to suppose that the James River is a protection to the South side inhabitants. In the Fall if not now that river can easily be forded in many places, which negroes and traitors will not be slow to point out. It is folly to trust to rivers or anything but powder and ball and timely preparation for home defense.

But if the people of the South side were in no danger at all it is their duty as patriots and Virginians to organize companies to assist their brethren of the North side whenever a raid is made upon them. In fact this is the very best way to protect the South side.

We make these suggestions in the friendliest spirit. Doubtless the South side knows its own interests better than we do. But if it is criminally indifferent to the welfare of its imperilled neighbors on this side of the river, it will be the duty of the Legislature at the approaching session to compel it to do its duty.

A Noble Genealogy.—A European correspondent of a New York paper, calls for a minute of respect to the memory of a printer of Metz, and gives the genealogy of the deceased as follows:

There died the other day at Metz a gentleman connected with the press, who deserves a word of respectful memory from all the guild. His name was Collignon, printer in that town and son of a printer in that town, who was a son of another printing Collignon of the same ilk who was ditto to ditto and so on up the unbroken honorable and ancient inky same family line to a primary Pierre Collignon printer at Metz in the year 1740. A worthy family that steadily setting up and striking off, through all the chances and changes of old and new thrones and principalities and republican powers.

Changed Hand.—The Democratic State Journal published at the Dalles has been sold out to W. W. Bancroft, who is also the editor; it has already dropped its former secession proclivities. The editor in his paper of yesterday says:

The Journal with the privilege reserved to itself to criticise the acts of all parties is pledged to nothing but the Union—"the Union first, last, and all the time."

With these sentiments for its guide, we wish it success.

The steamer Atlantic from Morris Island on the morning of the 16th arrived. Gen. Gilmore was [illegible] Cummings Point to shell Charleston. The fire from James Island still continues but not very effective. Sumter is still held by the rebels.

[illegible] Sept 20.—A Fortress Monroe telegram says there is a rumor here, and believed, that [illegible] being evacuated.

New York, Sept. 20.—A Morris Island letter reports the rebels busily repairing Fort Sumter [illegible] constantly plying between Sumter and the city carrying material. Deserters say that they are [illegible] and placing more batteries on James Island. Beauregard intends to assume the [illegible] an order to regain if possible Morris Island [illegible] Charleston is said to be full of rebel troops [illegible] say it will be weeks yet before Gilmore can open on Charleston. The mounting of the [illegible] guns on the north end of Morris Island is slow work under the fire of the rebel batteries. Gen. Gilmore has issued a congratulatory order to the troops in which he says: Charleston and its harbor lies at the mercy of our artillery.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Louisville dispatches this morning say our army under Rosecrans has been [illegible] by Bragg and compelled to retreat to Chattanooga. Bragg had received heavy reinforcements from Lee, Beauregard and Jo. Johnston. Telegraph lines south of Louisville are occupied with military business so that no particulars can be obtained.

New York, Sept. 21.—Gold 139.

Cincinnati, Sept. 21.—A dispatch received at Headquarters at 11 a. m. today from Rosecrans' Adjutant General, says the battle is still going on without any decisive result.

Cincinnati, Sept 21.—The Commercial's dispatches says [illegible] fight. Battle commenced in the vicinity of Widow Glenn's house on the road leading to Chattanooga. It soon became general, the enemy [illegible] Early in the action the rebels made an impetuous charge on Felton and Thom[illegible] five out of the six Parrott guns were captured [illegible] commanding was taken prisoner. His force then rallied, pushed the enemy back and retook his guns. Reynolds is busy [illegible] driving the enemy [illegible] who was overwhelmed [illegible] two guns. Van Cleve's advance [illegible] he was overpowered and failed to hold his position. [illegible] was pressed heavily [illegible] over their pursuit [illegible] along the whole line [illegible] the fire was terrific. [illegible] and from this until dark the battle raged with desperate fury. At dusk the firing had [illegible] threw forward fresh troops on our right. Our loss was heavy. Rebel [illegible] some of the regiments are nearly annihilated. Both armies occupy the same ground as when the battle began. We have taken several hundred prisoners, many of them from the East.

New York, Sept [illegible].—A person who left Richmond a few days ago gives the Herald the following: Lee's army is located near [illegible] and has only 20,000 men fit for duty. It is [illegible] that if Meade advances Lee will fall back to Richmond. The rebels have no idea of evacuating Richmond. The informant was at Charleston when Gilmore bombarded the city. One of the shells struck the spire of a church [illegible] within half a mile of [illegible] causing great consternation. [illegible] Sept 19.—On Wednesday Lieut. Col. Haws with [illegible] men of the 10th Ohio [illegible] attacked near [illegible] under Jackson. After fighting [illegible] loosing heavy in killed and wounded were compelled to surrender to overwhelming numbers.

Additional Eastern News

New York, September 18th.—The Times' special dispatch from Washington says Intelligence has been received here that propositions have been made by Napoleon to Jeff Davis to abolish slavery in the Southern States and establish a system of peonage similar to that of Mexico. Should this be done, Napoleon believes that no opposition would be made by England to the recognition of the Confederacy by the French. Napoleon further assures Davis that if he adopts this policy the South might arm their negroes and prevent them being used against them by the United States Government.

Newbern, (N. C.) September 14th.—Rebel privateers are running the blockade into Wilmington to a fearful extent. It is estimated that they are carrying in rebel supplies to the amount of a million dollars per day.

Peace meetings are being held in nearly every town in North Carolina. W. W. Holden of the Raleigh Standard meets with general approbation and support from the people. He is being hunted as the next candidate for Governor. An election of Congressmen will take place in November and the Conservative or Peace party is making its nominations with a view to sending its representatives to the Federal Congress in case General Lee be driven from Virginia.

San Francisco, Sept 18th.—Captain Bob Haley has chartered the steamship Herman to run in opposition to Holladay's Mexican line. She will leave October 3d, carrying freight and passengers at reduced rates.

The income tax revenue, since the first of September amounts to $10,000. The assessment for income taxes in this district amounts to about $10,000,000, giving a revenue of $400,000.

St. Paul, (Minn.) September 17th.—C. J. Brigges, General Manager of the grand trunk railroad of Canada, O. Sweet, Superintendent of the Canadian Telegraph Company and Gov. Dallas of the British Possessions are now here in consultation in regard to the establishment of telegraphic communication with Victoria. The material to build the line will be sent here this Fall and the work commenced in the Spring.

New York, Sept 18.—The Paris correspondent of the Times, writing under date [illegible] says: A most important change has taken place in European affairs. The Emperor Napoleon has turned a somersault and now he is in the dust [illegible] Gortschakoff [illegible] position of Europe. [illegible] is at an end and he after [illegible] do to take care of himself. [illegible] carry England and Austria with [illegible] with Russia and Prussia [illegible] and hoped by this war to conquer the [illegible] provinces, but his allies took the alarm and [illegible] land declared fully she [illegible] war [illegible] and Austria went to work [illegible] Confederation against him. About [illegible] there came to Paris positive assurance that [illegible] Clay was maturing an alliance [illegible] United States and Russia, which [illegible] United States to attack France in Mexico [illegible] European war. Then arose [illegible] that bugbear of his family, coalition [illegible] embrace [illegible] Russia [illegible] to lend the United States [illegible] but not less imaging an enemy [illegible] a combination would have [illegible] the emperor [illegible] ground [illegible] his knees [illegible] Gortschakoff and got [illegible] he never [illegible] for Poland. He [illegible] the Polish question [illegible] only [illegible] to France and [illegible] friendship for the United States [illegible] other result of the affair is that the [illegible] plant will be left on Napoleon [illegible] Duke Maximilian now refuses the new throne and there is no other Prince [illegible] will take it.

There is now evidence that the intrigues of the French Consuls in the South to [illegible] Texas from the Confederacy [illegible] still continue.

In regard to the Florida at Brest the [illegible] correspondent states that the engines of the Florida are of English manufacture. Maffit [illegible] stop somewhere but found after [illegible] Brest that French workmen [illegible] the English engines and he would [illegible] get English workmen from England. All this [illegible] delay which put Maffit into [illegible] now his vessel will probably suffer the fate of the Sumter at Gibraltar.

Maffit says that but for the mistake of Lieutenant Reed, who cut out the Caleb Cushing at Portland (Me.) it was his programme at once to enter the port of New York or Boston and burn the place.—When the [illegible] first came into the port of Brest, Dayton protested formally against her admission, but it probably with the expectation of having her expelled, for so far the French have faithfully [illegible] their neutrality proclamation in all other respects and it was expected it would also in this. But the private guarantees [illegible] points which might arise and prevented [illegible] of favor.

The Moniteur of this morning publishes an official note on the subject, which declares that the [illegible] will only be allowed to repair such damage as regard her navigation, but no supplies or war material will be furnished her.

An amusing controversy is raging in Washington as to what papers are the organs of the Administration. The Chronicle referring to the wisdom of the Associated Press agent in telegraphing portions of a recent war with England article in the Republican and saying it possessed much semi official importance says: The Republican has no shadow of claim to speak for the Administration, whether officially or unofficially. The Republican retorts that the writer in the Chronicle lies, and that he knows he lies and we know he knows he lies and he knows we know he knows he lies.

SKIRMISHING.—Quite a skirmish came off Front street, yesterday afternoon, between well known citizens, from whom better things might be expected, which resulted in black eyes and bleeding noses. As there was no police present, no arrest was made.

"Let dogs delight to bark and bite," etc.

POST EXPRESS.—Tracy & Co.'s express, from the Boise mines, arrived last night on the Hunt, bringing a large number of letters and about $10,000 in gold dust.

GOLD DUST.—About fifty pounds of gold dust was received by Wells, Fargo & Co. last evening from the upper country.

MORE EMIGRANTS.—Another party of emigrants, who have left the more immediate scenes of "war's dread commotion," to make their homes in our quiet and beautiful valley, arrived on the Hunt last evening.

SHIPPING.—The steamer Sierra Nevada, from this port, arrived at San Francisco on the 13th inst. The bark Samuel Merritt cleared for Portland on the same day.

THEATRE.—A select and fashionable audience was present at the theater last evening, to witness Shakspeare's celebrated play of "Romeo and Juliet," which was performed in the most splendid style. To-night the grand and thrilling play of "CAMILLE" will be presented, Miss Julia Dean Hayne taking her favorite character of Camille, supported by Miss Mitchell, Mr. Waldron and the entire company. Those who have witnessed this beautiful and interesting play, will agree with us when we say that it has but few rivals for thrilling effect upon an audience among the plays produced on the American stage. Secure your seats early this morning, as a crowded house is certain. We noticed an addition to the orchestra, under the direction of Professor Sedlin, which now cannot be beat for discoursing sweet music.

NEW PHASE OF THE MEXICAN QUESTION.—The Copperheads of Mexico have drawn an elephant. Having invited French intervention in the affairs of their country because they had lost the power to rule it themselves, they find the French are their masters and they are under the restraint. The dispatches say that they feel outraged because the throne was not given to a Mexican. This has always been the result of foreign intervention in every age and part of the world. It would be singular if a portion of the Mexican Church-Monarchy Copperhead party should be found acting with the Liberals to restore the independence and freedom of their country.

The legitimate government against which they conspired evinces a great spirit in the hour of adversity, and seems endowed with capacity equal to its patriotism. The refusal of Maximilian to accept the dangerous mockery of a crown which France would perhaps leave him to defend alone, and the dissentions between the French and the [illegible] party, are circumstances favorable to the cause of Juarez, which is the cause of Republicanism in Mexico and America. The proposition for a Congress of American Republics is bold and significant, and is likely to have important results. The South American States hail it with enthusiasm, for they understand that the establishment of a monarchy in Mexico, by European bayonets, may lead to similar attempts upon their own independence. They will adopt and extend the "Monroe Doctrine" of the United States until it shall have this broad meaning: "The people of the American continent are competent to and should control its destinies. The [illegible] be the only king in Amer[illegible]." In taking this attitude and making this declaration they should have the sympathy and co-operation of the United States. The time is near, if not already at hand, when our Government must, for its own safety and honor, do something more in this Franco-Mexican monarchy business than to [illegible] inconsequential paper protests. We do not see why it should not be represented in the Congress of American Republics, and add its potential voice to theirs in favor of maintaining, at all hazards, the independence of the self-governing people on this continent.—Lyoul.

WONDERS OF PHOTOGRAPHY.—A perfect copy of the Declaration of Independence the size of an ordinary pin's head, is for sale in some of the shops in San Francisco, and can be readily deciphered with the aid of a good magnifier. For a few cents you can obtain a likeness of yourself, which a hundred years ago would have been accounted a priceless [illegible]. The Cartes de Visite has become a necessity, [illegible] desirable then, to look well in a picture, which you can never do, if you wear ill-fitting garments. Dalton, Hastings & Co., the celebrated outfitters of Montgomery street, corner of Sutter, San Francisco, are the leading house in their line, and you not only procure a good fitting suit of clothes at their store, but may rely on the quality and workmanship, for they deal in none but the best.

We scarce can deem thee gone,
So gently didst thou pass away,
And angel hands methinks unclasped
The gates of endless day.
A glorious band, in robes of light,
Await thy coming home;
Thy husband and thy children there
Tune harps before the throne.
And there, a sinless spirit, thou

In Every Age of the World, the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men too often exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue, and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

KENNEDY'S CORNER, Wayne Co., Ind., Oct. 3, 1863.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & CO.—I write to let you know what BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA has done for me. Last January I was attacked with Inflammatory Rheumatism, attended with great pain. I became bed-ridden, and was helpless as a child! The pain was so great when I moved that it seemed as if it would take my very life! In this way I suffered for seven long weeks or more, and thought that I could never recover. I was recommended to try BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA, and I did so. I took it internally, and had my body rubbed freely with it as long as I could bear, several times a day. My pains began to give way immediately on using the medicine, and I began to have strength and appetite, and am able to be about again. It has been a great blessing to me in relieving my suffering.

Scald Head Cured.

RICHMOND, Ind, May 1, 1850.

MESSRS. A. L. SCOVILL & CO.—Gents: It is with pleasure that I write you, and let you know the result of DR. MOTT'S PILLS on my daughter. Some three years ago she was troubled with Scald Head, and the scalp was one mat of sores. We tried almost everything we could think of without being cured. I got DR. MOTT'S LIVER PILLS, and used them as directed, and in six weeks she was entirely restored. Yours, etc., JAMES JOHNSON.

READ, MOTHERS, READ!—How many a mother has waked up at MIDNIGHT AND FOUND HER CHILD BREATHING HARD, ATTENDED WITH PECULIAR WHISTLING OR BARKING COUGH, which would be relieved by the use of DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM, and repay, a thousand times the cost, by having it once in time of need, to give relief to the struggling child! Then why delay in procuring a remedy for such a sudden disease, which is CARRYING OFF THOUSANDS OF OUR CHILDREN EVERY YEAR!

EVERY FAMILY should keep this medicine constantly on hand, for old and young should use it for all affections of the throat and lungs.

Taree-card Gambling---The Resistless Allurement of Gambling

We find in a Scotch paper the following graphic illustration of the gambling spirit in a decent honest folk:

"After a very inter sting tour in Ireland I found myself in one of the principal [illegible] waiting for the [illegible] Scotland. Away from home, every thing [illegible] interest to the tourist [illegible] variation of dress or custom [illegible]. So, hearing of a [illegible] there was a great resort [illegible] day, though it was not exactly [illegible] dered out of the living adeys [illegible] anon opened and closed [illegible] mass nothing struck my attention [illegible] the extraordinary devel pment of the [illegible] ling spirit. It was [illegible] eyes of the police and of their [illegible] law to prevent it the law seems [illegible] watched, with pitying in my heart to see message boys and fruit girls and almost every one, "trying their luck" and of course losing their coppers. As I came out [illegible] the crowd I had the pleasure of falling in with a brother Scot, and we soon found ourselves busy about the old country. In [illegible] we had a parting look at the [illegible] of the natives. There were the [illegible] on the outskirts of each little crowd, and in the centre, upon his knees, the card sharper [illegible] out like an auctioneer. They keep up an incessant talk, explain your [illegible] winning, etc., all to prevent their [illegible] from thinking. This time we [illegible] minute in our investigation of the three cards, and, being both keen and wary [illegible] saw the ease of winning. There were three cards, viz., two red ones say [illegible] and one black one, say spades and they were shuffled before you, the man occasionally giving you a glimpse of the right [illegible] in the process. Then you made your choice—the black winning, and the red losing. This was two to one in the man's favor, but then the player had the advantage of the [illegible] glimpse of the cards, which was indeed very freely given. Suddenly my friend said he would try. I, of course discouraged him, but perhaps too feebly. As the thing was so simple, I thought the gambler would be none the worse of feeling that a Scotchman [illegible] not so easily done.

"Come away, then gentlemen," said the gambler, a la auctioneer, "come away [illegible] fair field and no favor, pennies [illegible] eigns!"

"Well," says my friend, "done for half a crown."

"Done," cries the man.

The card is up and the half crown won.

"Come along now," I said to my friend "you can't keep that money [illegible] scramble among the men."

"Oh," says he, "I will see to sweep up the old blackguard a little yet."

"Come away, gentlemen," said the sharper again, "you see you can win when you like."

"Done for five shillings," said my friend.

"Say one pound," said the man.

"No."

"Yes, one pound," said he again.

"Very well, one pound be it."

Up comes a card, all right again, the pound is won.

Now I interfered. "Come along," I said "tis not proper even to win, the money will do you no good."

"Hold on a moment, another trial."

"Come away, gentlemen, see what fortune this gentleman has, follow the lead [illegible] come along for any amount."

"Done for one pound," said my friend.

"Oh, say five, man," responded the sharper.

"Done for five, then."

Up comes the card, oh, what a reverse the wrong card!

My friend turned to me, "How is this?"

"Oh," said I, "I saw the proper card you should have taken the centre one."

"That's three pounds I loose now," said he, "I have only one left."

"Come along while it is safe," said I.

"Oh, not at all, I'll win it back."

"No," said I, "you will loose, you will get excited—you are so already."

"Well, I am," said he, "but watch you too; you are cool, and I shall watch also. Shuffle again, old fellow."

"Here you are again, gentlemen," our sharper says, "find the right card and you win you see it all the time."

"Done again," says my friend, "one pound."

"No, say five."

"Very well, one pound."

We agree silently about the card. He stoops, and the man pockets the sovereign as he picks up the card. We look—'tis red. How could it happen? He has now lost all. He offers to play upon a cheque, but our sharper friend can do nothing in the cheque way. I now make a move in the way of leaving.

"He catches my elbow, despair in his eye, but the gambler's flush on his cheek. "Oh, man, do not leave me here, risk something for me. We are certain to win. I was too excited that time. If I could win back even one pound."

"Man, I would rather give you a pound than try that awful business," I said, though I found the affection strong to try a turn at the cards. It was so plain and simple, that I despised my friend a good deal for losing so easily. I could not endure to engage in so vile a speculation, however.

"Ah," said he, "you know I would not take a pound from you, you surely know the Scotch spirit. I would starve sooner than take it."

"Come along, gentlemen, come along," was constantly called out by our sharper from his human arena, the crowd all around eager with the excitement. The pleading of my poor friend at the last, with the awful allurement of such easy, simple gambling, broke down my strong repugnance to make any trial. I was anxious to assist him. He would take it in no other way than in my venturing the pound for him.

"Take the pound and do it yourself, man, or rather keep it safe in your pocket, and be done with it," I said, as a last trial to help him.

"Man, I can't," said he, with eyes now almost filling with tears. I could stand it no longer. "Here goes, then," said I, "for you. Calm yourself, and we will do our best to win back, and no more, mind."

"Oh, no more; I wish I had never begun," said he sorrowfully.

"Done," said I, very feebly indeed, and then immediately "No, no I won't. Let's have a trial without money."

The cards were shuffled. "Now this is only a trial," said I.

I picked up the right card.

"Oh, man, what a pity you did not bet," says my friend.

"Well, watch again," said I. "Now, done for one pound."

"Done for two," asks the sharper.

"No, no, for one only."

"Well, for one."

I pick up the cards. We are both certain, but behold the red diamonds. My pound is gone, and my blood is up at once. The Scotch aversion to being beat strives with my wish to be away. I waver, I turn.

"And more," says my friend [illegible] have [illegible] there [illegible]

[illegible]

Oh but I will [illegible] back [illegible]

[illegible] we would [illegible] till [illegible]

Well [illegible] all right in the [illegible]

Done for [illegible] pound, then, said I [illegible] the right card.

[illegible]

This time we agreed. I picked up my card [illegible] My friend looks completely [illegible] [illegible] dreadful moment [illegible] the black card and [illegible] it out to me slyly, and [illegible] You'll mind me [illegible]

[illegible] cards again shuffling [illegible] this was a wrong way of winning, but I only wanted my own again and everything is [illegible]

Done for one pound [illegible] for the first time.

My friend's face began to brighten.

Done, says the sharper [illegible] I was, [illegible] the wrong card again!

With both turn away [illegible] we cannot speak [illegible] at last we began mutually [illegible] the just punishment we have had [illegible] strayed from the path of rectitude and subsequently [illegible] parted.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weaknesses arising from Excesses, Habits of Dissipation, Early Indiscretion or Abuse!

ATTENDED WITH THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

Indisposition to Exertion	Loss of Power
Loss of Memory	Difficulty of Breathing
Weak Nerves	Trembling
Horror of Disease	Wakefulness
Dimness of Vision	Pain in the Back
Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System	Flushing of the Body
Hot Hands	Eruptions on the Face,
Dryness of the Skin

Pallid Countenance

These symptoms if allowed to go on, which this medicine invariably removes, soon follows

Impotency, Fatuity, Epileptic Fits,

IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE

Who can say that they are not frequently followed by those "direful diseases,"

"INSANITY AND CONSUMPTION,"

Many are aware of the cause of their suffering, BUT NONE WILL CONFESS.

THE RECORDS OF THE INSANE ASYLUMS,

And the melancholy deaths by Consumption bear ample witness to the truth of the assertion.

THE CONSTITUTION,

once affected by Organic Weakness,

Requires the Aid of Medicine,

to strengthen and invigorate the system which

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

invariably does.

CURES SECRET DISEASES,

In all their Stages, At Little Expense, Little or no Change in Diet, No Inconvenience, AND NO EXPOSURE.

It causes a frequent desire and gives strength to Urinate, thereby Removing Obstructions, Preventing and curing Strictures of the Urethra, allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in the class of Diseases, and expelling all Poisonous, Diseased and worn out matter.

THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS
Who have been the victims of Quacks

and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they were deceived, and that the "POISON" has, by the use of "powerful Astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after marriage.

Use Helmbold's Extract Buchu

For all Affections and Diseases of the URINARY ORGANS, whether existing in MALE OR FEMALE, from whatever cause originating and

NO MATTER OF HOW LONG STANDING.

Diseases of these Organs require the aid of a Diuretic,

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

IS THE GREAT DIURETIC,

ATTENTION, SOLDIE[illegible]
AND THE FRIENDS OF A[illegible]

We call the attention of [illegible] in the army to the fact that [illegible] will cure nine-tenths of [illegible] published almost daily in the [illegible] the sick. It will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August [illegible]

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy-two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.
